OBJECTIVITY REPORTS 20% QUARTER OVER QUARTER INCREASE IN REVENUE

- Growth and Adoption in the Expanding Security and Intelligence Markets Credited -

SUNNYVALE, Calif., (October 18, 2005) - - - Experiencing continued momentum in the government sector for its real-time data management solutions for complex inter-related data, Objectivity, Inc., today announced results for the quarter ended September 30, 2005. Adoption of Objectivity's flagship data repository platform, Objectivity/DB, continued growing with revenues increasing 20% over the previous Quarter ended June 30, 2005. In addition, on a year over year basis, Objectivity continued to build its financial strength with balances for cash, cash equivalents and short term investments increasing by 25% as compared to the Quarter ended September 30, 2004, and working capital (current assets less current liabilities) increasing by 30% over the same period. "We are outperforming our Plan for Fiscal Year 2006 and are continuing to enhance our financial position," said Jay Jarrell, president and CEO of Objectivity.

Supporting Today's Government Challenges

Objectivity is experiencing significant growth in the government sector for Objectivity/DB which stores and manages very large volumes of complex data for event and relationship processing within mission-critical applications. Objectivity/DB enables government agencies to collect and process ever increasing quantities of data from a growing number of sources to understand complicated inter-relationships and recognize patterns, transforming small clues into major breakthroughs. Objectivity/DB provides a reliable, scalable repository for the wide range of complex data types found in today's advanced real-time data fusion applications. The Objectivity platform is highly optimized for performance and throughput in systems that handle highly interconnected data.

Government Market Success

The company attributes its continued success to the growth and adoption from the expanding security and intelligence markets that benefit significantly from the Objectivity/DB platform. Many of Objectivity's government customers are performing data fusion from geospatial and sensor data. Others are storing and correlating vast amounts of disparate information such as text, images, video and voice for investigation or security and intelligence applications. Additional government agencies where Objectivity has experienced significant success include the Department of Defense (DOD) and the Department of Energy (DOE), which has generated the world's largest database, currently storing 895 Terabytes of information in Objectivity/DB.

“In addition to increased revenues from our traditional markets worldwide, we continue to see domestic and ally government agencies collaborating on their respective security and intelligence needs using Objectivity/DB as the high-end data repository for their real-time data fusion applications.” adds Jarrell.

About Objectivity, Inc.

Objectivity, Inc. is a global technology leader in data management products and services for software applications with the most demanding data management challenges. The company's flagship product, Objectivity/DB is the leading object oriented data management (OODB) platform for the real-time management of complex inter-related data. Objectivity/DB is recognized for its ability to store and manage very large volumes of complex data for event and relationship processing within mission-critical applications. These applications are developed by ISVs, OEMs and end-users in process control, medical and telecommunications equipment, government, ontology, financial services, and knowledge management. Objectivity/DB enables organizations to monitor, analyze and respond by identifying inter-relationships or anomalies providing real-time intelligence for predictive analysis and decision support. Objectivity/DB is also grid enabled, making it easier to administer than other object databases.

Objectivity, Inc. is headquartered in Sunnyvale, Calif., USA. For more information, contact the company by sending e-mail to info@objectivity.com, visiting <http://www.objectivity.com> or calling (408) 992-7100.
